Report on Student Satisfactory Survey – 2022-23

The survey on teaching and learning process (SSS) was conducted for the academic year 2019-20, for this purpose nearly 50 to 60 % of the students were randomly selected. This survey was conducted by the IQAC cell without prior intimation to the students. The questionnaire was collected after giving them due time to think and record their opinions based on the facts. The questionnaire was finally collected and analyzed on the basis of the data extracted.

The following is the result of the analysis in which the students in general have given a positive response towards many questions. Some of the weak areas are brought to the notice of the principal and the teachers and asked them to rectify their weak points at suitable times. The following are the areas where the survey throws light on the process of evaluation:

Strong Points:

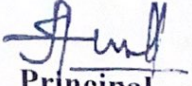

1. Communication of the Faculty.
2. Teaching Methodology.
3. Student Centric Approach.
4. Mentoring Process.
5. Encouragement in Co-curricular and Extra-curricular activities.
6. Field Visits.

Areas where further improvement was possible and directed:

1. Teaching Preparation.
2. Follow-up of Assignments.
3. Guiding students on Course outcome, Program outcome.
4. Counseling.
5. Continuous Internal Evaluation process
6. Use of ICT
